Labyrinth: Together Across the Distance

by Anna Strickland, Labyrinth Program Assistant

Labyrinth like most churches has moved into an online space since Spring Break. COVID-19 blew all our plans out of the water. No chapel, no lounge, no dinner. We wondered, what does ministry look like when we don't gather in the same physical space? Our gatherings are so central to our identity - what will connect us when we're apart? Concerned for our students' well-being, we decided to start by sending care packages full of items that met their physical and spiritual needs alike.

Last semester, Austin had brought some votives that were left over from another event, and I stashed them in the chapel closet. When we began packing care packages, I knew I could grab a couple of votives for each student and send them across Texas to connect us back to our home at Labyrinth. Leaving the empty chapel felt sad and worrisome, not knowing when we would gather there again. But watching our students open their care packages through photos, videos, and texts warmed my heart again. Our community is not about a place. It's about the connections we share.

We've begun posting prompts for spiritual practices on our social media, and the week before we began worshipping together again, we asked everyone to set aside some sacred space wherever they were staying. We all have different stories, different objects that are meaningful to us, different altars. But as René wrote in our updated call to presence, "we gather together in spirit and heart and light through our candles."

May you find sacred space in your own home, and may you remember every time you light a candle, whether an LED tea light, a birthday candle, a Saint Dolly Parton votive, or a roaring fireplace, that the light of Christ connects us all through these worrisome times.

You're invited to Labyrinth's Palm Sunday Social TODAY at 3 PM!

The students of Labyrinth are still gathering online, but they will miss socializing with our members over dinner. In order to make up for that special time, Labyrinth is hosting a Palm Sunday Social for all of their supporting congregations to Zoom with the students. We'll have a chance to share stories, recipes, questions, photos, and fellowship. Join us on Zoom at 3PM on Sunday, April 5, at <https://us04web.zoom.us/j/526897915> and bring your favorite Easter breakfast recipe and a digital photo that reminds you of spring!

How to help our Labyrinth students during the pandemic:

- Donate to the Labyrinth student emergency fund on Facebook at <http://fb.com/labyrinthatx>.
- Send HEB or Target gift cards, disinfecting wipes, shelf-stable milk, flour, active dry yeast, tea, coffee, snacks, and fun stuff for our care packages to University Christian Church, 2007 University Ave., Austin, TX 78705.
- Donate to Labyrinth's general budget for their new postage needs, Zoom subscription, and increased food buying since churches will not be able to bring dinner. You can donate on our website here: <http://labyrinthatx.org/give>.
